SC4020 Data Mining Project

Group 07

Contribution Summary

Lewis Chng Qihon has contributed to the project through the background research of the topic chosen, finding source and reference materials, and writing of the main paper.

Bhat Sachin has contributed to the project through sourcing of selected algorithms, gathering experimental data from code implementations, and proofreading of the main paper.

Both of us have read through and contributed to each other's work, and we acknowledge and agree that our individual contribution towards the project is equal between both members.
